

JOIN OUR BUSINESS COMMUNITY AT THE FOREFRONT OF THE FIGHT AGAINST MODERN SLAVERY

Your company can take action through 4 steps:

Commit: Your company reviews the pledge and signs up.

Act: Your company identifies categories in which it's taking action in the fight against modern slavery.

Track: The Mekong Club will work with you to track your company's actions in each category every year and these assessments will remain confidential.

Measure: The overall scores are aggregated to calibrate the business community's unified impact on modern slavery.

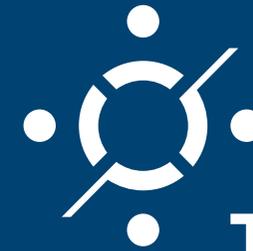

WHAT IS IN IT FOR MY COMPANY?

- Consolidate your reputation as a responsible company amongst key stakeholders by joining a business community that is publicly committed to fighting modern slavery.
- Acquire access to advice from anti-slavery field experts who will help you assess your actions.
- Track your performance against that of your sector.
- Move towards compliance with legislation such as the UK Modern Slavery Act.

Sign the Pledge and become part of a business community that is serious about fighting modern slavery.

THE BUSINESS PLEDGE AGAINST MODERN SLAVERY

As companies and members of the corporate community, we declare our unified commitment to help end this crime across Asia.

We work and will continue to work to collect and share relevant information to inform business decisions, promote education and training, and contribute to the development of tools to help prevent and address modern slavery.

Around the world today several million people are in slavery-like situations. Recognizing this is a business issue, we advocate a zero-tolerance approach to this problem in all its forms throughout the business community in Asia and beyond through partnerships and cooperation.
